John Francome came to racing from success in junior show jumping and joined the legendary Fred Winter's yard at Uplands when he was sixteen and stayed there for the whole of his career. During this time he won the Jockey's Championship seven times and won the coveted Cheltenham Gold Cup in 1978 on Midnight Court. On retiring, he had a brief spell as a trainer and then had time as a successful author and a brilliant TV presenter and pundit for Channel 4 Racing. He now works tirelessly as a Vice-Patron of the Injured Jockeys Fund having been President from 2012 - 2016.

An amazing auction of sporting opportunities and the usual excellent raffle - all in support of the IJF
